Gleridale's team, while it, isn't particularly well balanced, seems to be so strong as to be almost unbeatable. Wyckoff would appear to be capable of winning 15 points in pretty nearly any meet and Slosum can pick up 4 or 5 more in the same events, and these, with Falter's shot-put points, could clean up the national prep situation back at Chicago. the boys make the trip.

Old Dave Lewis, who upset the boys by winning Saturday's 200-mile auto race back East, is one of the genuine grand old men of the racing game. He raced Mercers and Stutas in the days of Spencer Wishart, Eddie Pullen and Earl Cooper and in warning up for one of the Santa Monica road races, upset a 120-horse-power Flat and rolled over half a dozen times at the Soldier' Home turn. Then he started in racing the four-cylinder Essex when it was sprung on a startied pablic and set many stock-car records with it, including a transcontinental mark that stood for several years. Dave has cheated the old boy with the scythe for such a long time that he's thoroughly entitled to any victories he can get away with.

Southern California has no reasons to feel bad over the outcome because another year of seasoning will make enough difference to win the matches that were lost and certainly there were an donations made by our players. Every match was tremendously hard fought and Cliff Herd, who was hardly able to walk a year ago, distinguished himself by some splendid tennis in his three-set match with Ray Casey. The northern players had the edge that goes with greater tournament experience and tougher competition. win a national championship, and it's too had they can't go."

When asked if Glendale might not dery the C.L.P. and send the Dynamiters east anyway, Hayhurst repited: "I think nok inasmuch as all but one of the boys have another year of competition' and such action would probably result in Glendale being barred from California meets for at least a year." Patter the Soft. shot putter, is the only man Hayhrust loses this year. Slocum, Zaun and all the others who placed in the Southern California and State meets are to return.

"Right now we are hoping that it may be worked out so that we can go east next year," said Hayhurst." Perhaps by starting early we can interest the members of the committee in our behalf."

Incidentally, Hayhurst disclosed that Russ Slocum, who was given second to Wykoff in the 9.8s. century race of last Gaturday, really ran a dead heat with his team-mate. Hayhurst declares that the officials first intended to give the result out that way, but then changed their minds for some reason or other.

The East or Midwest will see Wykoff and Slocum despite the C.L.P., top both boys are members of the Hollywood Athletic Club team and will run for the movie outfit in the national A.A.U. meet. Where this meet will be held nebody knows, New Orleans, which originally had it, having passed it along to whoever wants it.

Incidentally, the correct score of the Modesto meet was: Glendale, 30: of the league. Last week the Stars seemed to lose the pepper that has characterized their play and without that hustle they're actually terrible.

characterized their play and without that hustle they're actually terrible.

Last year along shout this time when the collection of athletes brought from Sait Lake showed that they wouldn't do in a park where high files were merely high files instend of drives up against and over the Bonneville Park fences. Lane got by without strengthening with the excuse that it was too late for the Stars to go any place anyway. It begins to look as if he's going to pull the same gag on the fans again this season, and it's a shame that the largest city in the circuit has to stand for the worst baseball in the league.

The case of the Angels is almost as bad as that of the Stars, but the blame here must be laid to the players instead of the club owners. The flerapha aren't hustling, as the long-time-mout contests which they continually put on will testify. Without Jigger flatz out in center the Krugmen haven't the same snap and pepper that characterized their play last season, when they were dashing through the league.

Fans in the north have put up several kicks against the lagging play of the Angels and unless they start hustling, attendance at their games will be almost as bad as the Stars.

The advanced starting time of 2:15 will be inaugurated at Wrigley Field this afternoon, when Red Killefer's Seattle Indians and the Stars open a seven-game series.

thing of a surprise, for while the odds of the Whitner entry were little higher than those on Beapa Flow, it was Whiskery which had held the attention of racing fans.

Unruliness of several of the 3-year-olds delayed the start for several minutes. When the bairrier finally was raised, Saxon of the Greentree Stable jumped into the Bad, pressed closely by William Dupont's Filly Fair Star and Scapa Flow. The field remained fairly well bunshed until the clubhouse turn was reached. Mere Jockey Cottllettl sent Soapa Flow into the lead, which the Jesfords colt increases throughout the back stretch.

The headlong pace of the favorite took its tell on the turn into the home stretch, however, Scapa Flow not only wearing out the majority of the field, but himself weakening to the point where he became easy prey for Whiskery and Sir Harry, which had been kept well in hand.

Entering the stretch Whiskery was leading Scapa Flow, with Bir Harry and Bostonian following in that order. During the next eighth of a mile Black Panther pulled ahead of Scapa Flow, will Jockey Abel began to bring Bostonian in proun the outside.

MOMPROMISE AND DELAY TAX-CUTTING PROSPECTS

Senate Due to Hold Sway in New Revenue Legislation and to Take Its Time in Acting

This is the third of a series of articles on prospects for Federal tax

BY WILLIAM P. HELM, JR.

WASHINGTON, May 9. (Exclusive)—Neither the Mellon an, nor the Coolidge plan, nor any other administration plan of tax reduction will be enacted at the next session of Congress. The new revenue bill will be written largely by the United States Senate and will reflect generously the Democratic as well as the Republican viewpoint.

This is so obvious as to be out-e-try may expect when a Coolidge-standing above almost every other factor in the situation when one considers the political complexion of the present Senate. It stands so nearly divided between Democratis evenly divided between Democratis and Republicans as to make any other AGREEMENT and Republicans as to make any other than a compromise plan out of the question. With a small group of so-called Republicans of strong Demo-cratic leanings holding the balance of power, even the organization of committees will remain of doubtful political complexion until they are actually organized.

This unsettled situation in the fienate makes it unlikely, that there will be any revision of taxes prior to the date for filing returns next year-March 18. On the other hand, the House will have the new bill before it virtually from the opening of the seasion. OUTLOOK IN SENATE

But the eventy divided Senate, on the eve of a Presidential election compaign, will take its time. It did not result that the revision law was not result that the revision and there were some mighty anxious moments in the administration camp as to whether the revision would be passed in time to apply to the second-payment date, June 18. Great was the relief when Congress finally disposed of the measure in time to remit some of the dies on second-installment payments. From all preliminary indications it will be nearing June of nest year before a new tax law is approved. Reasons for delay are stronger and more numerous in the prospective 1925 tax cut than they were in 1924. Chee of the added reasons springs from the certainty that the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from the bill passed by the Senate will differ radically from t th doubliess will come as a shock the some of the more complacent workers for tax reduction to find that there won't be any reduction in time for using the lower rates when making out March returns. The shock will be increased by the scare that June 15 will find the new law unenacted. Yet such apparently is the line of breakers to which swents are diffting.

That minority side than any other leader was Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who, with his following, sought by various strategies and manacures, to have the Senate record itself in favor of reduction at the last session.

ADJUSTMENT PROSPECTS
There will not be sufficient surplus, in all likelihoods for killing off the dues, admissions, nuisance and automobile excise taxes and at the same time lopping a hardsome alice from the corporation-tax rate. A cautumnay fix that and adjust straying proposals, but even so, the trend of thought is significant. One finds no advocacy of lower surtax rates, no mention whatever of lowering the tax on business, in fact, the trend is altogether toward reducing the fax on business, with the fertile suggestion thrown in that maybe it would be a good time to cut the tariff, too. So, yesterday argued the minority group, that probably will hold the helm tomorrow.

BRITISH ACTION NO SURPRISE TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, May 9. (P)—Formal declaration of a British policy of awaiting internal developments in China caused no surprise today to Washington officials who have known informally for some time that the London government was in accord with the American view that it would be inexpedient to undertake enforcement of the Nanking demands until the political situation in China itself has been clarified.

There is increasing hopefulness here meanwhile, that the split in the Chinese Nationalist party between radical and moderate groups will result in a greater degree of security for Americans and other foreigners still in Nationalist controlled territory.

The British decision not to supplement for the present at least the original demands in connection with the Nanking outrages coincides with the position taken by President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg from the outset. They have deferred decision on that point to await developments within the Nationalist party itself and at no time has the Washington government been willing to discuss with any other power the question of measures of force to compel acceptance of the demands.

CHIANG CALLED REBEL

Chiang Kai-Shek, according to Chen, is a common rebel who "reverted to type" when success turned his head. "We never intended to send an army down the lower Yangtee to occupy Nanking or Shanghai," said Chen. "Our intention was to push-directly northward after a short rest in Hankow, for Peking was and remains our chief objective. But Chiang Kai-Shek was determined on this southeastern expedition and sent troops down the river with results w"ve all seen. Shanghai controls 40 per cent of the Chinese national revenues. This value is too great for any soldier's equilibrium under the old feulalistic tradition.

"Chiang Kai-Shek made a war lord of himself and brought us serious internal afid external difficulties. In spite of these we continue our northern expedition. Chang Kai-Shek's diversion will be finished within another two or three months and the world will see we are strong enough to expel him."

In discussing the Nanking out-trages Chen drew a sharp line between the responsibility and guilt of the Hankow government. He de-trage chemical contents of the demand who was washing near the ranch, was slain read by a band of Yaqui Indians last Tuesday on the Slaughter Land and Cattle Company's ranch, an American-owned property 150 miles south of here in the State of Sonora, and the capture and ransom of the wife of the ranch manager, Bob Slaughter Land and Cattle Company's ranch, an American-owned property 150 miles south of here in the State of Sonora, and the capture and ransom of the wife of the ranch manager, Bob Slaughter to the warrival here of the Slaughters from the Mexican interior.

In discussing the Nanking outrages Chen drew a sharp line between the responsibility and guilt of the Hankow government. He declared energetically that it would never admit any share in the guilt.

"If proved outrages were the work of Nationalist soldiers and officers, this government would be willing to assume responsibility and make all apologies and reparations necessary, but instead of basing their action upon the responsibility of the Nationalist government the powers based it upon guilt, a totally different thing.

The cotton manufacturing industry is made up of a great variety of different lines of manufacture, each with its esparate problems. It is, therefore, Hrms thinks, indispensable in the search of facts to proceed separately as to each of those branches of the industry and he is taking steps to organize the industry into groups for the purposs, of developing the necessary information.

Thus the "wide absettings group" and the "narrow absettings group" already have been organized and each is taking steps to promote the obtain-

While the institute is an organization of botton mills Hines and his executive committee are convinced that it is eminently desirable to work in most friendly effort with every other general interest related to out-ton manufacture. position of such underlying stability as for 1927 to date. The graphs of the deily renewal rates for 1928 and 1925 make erooked lines indeed beside that for this year so far.

A variety of influences have helped to from out the usual advances of February and March, and the usual stecline of April, but the large gold influx has been the dominant influnice for stability. Bill rates, commercial paper rates and time money have undergone no important change this year. The normal seasonal upturn in money early this year was prevented by the gold inflow and similarly the usual April downturn was avoided since the effect of gold additions had been spent in a rising volume of bank credit. All of which plainly shows why any judgment now on the future trend of money must be qualified to allow for the gold movement.

Down to a week ago the outlook had been for a continuation of money rates around their present levels. Good reasons still can be feited why money should not rise far above present levels, and similarfly good reasons why it should not fall. If the inward flow of yellow metal continues at the pace set again this month, these 'leves may not continue to find so much favor the Wall street since a powerful new influence for lower rates will have been introduced. In the absence of such a flow it is dimeuli to understand why money should drop far so long as the business volume remains large and so long as heavy liquidation on the stock exchange is Byers & G. (A. B.)

This Ceylon dragon is not much for beauty. He has a quick temper and does not hesitate to show displeasure. His forked tongue darts in and out of his mouth and leaves no doubt of his means, he has 180 pounds to him. Rigid scales cover the creature's body. It is a brownish gray body with yellow rings.

The tall is four feet long and is a powerful wespon in combat. He was ir his traveling crate when interviewed and appeared happy in his law in the sound and the his approval by hissing softly.

He is one of those "there aim's no such animal" types. Until thirty years ago, even the most srudite achentists did not believe that such a feptile existed. His tastes are but slightly epicurean. He likes eigs, lamb, chicken and several varieties of smaller animals.

He is the only one of his kind in this country. His forbears were models for the dragons of mythology. He is the fourth one taken alive. Of the other three, only one is alive, at the soo at Amsterdam, Bolland.—[Philities of a smith of the size from a charden to the risk of the risks of the risks

JUDGE SUGGESTS COUPLE WED: THEY GET CHANGE OF VENUE

A pitiless, wrangling legal dispute was waged in Superior Judge Crawford's court between suggested that he deed all property to her in trust so that no one could take it away from him.

Vanderbeck's complaint states that he acceded to Mrs. Mills's request thinking that he would terminate his financial worries, but, in fact, they were only beginning, he avers, for when he later demanded the return of his property Mrs. Mills refused.

Mrs. Mills had been placed on the stand in her own desense and when questioned regarding her affection for Vanderbeck she broke down in sobs.

Judge Crawford cleared h is throat and gazed through the open door of the courtroom at a sign which read: "Marriage License Bureau."

"Mrs. Mills seems to be unable to continue her testimony at this time." Judge Crawford said. "Court will adjourn until Monday, the 9th inst. Meanwhile I want the plaintiff and defendant in this action to confer with me in my chambers."

Judge Crawford's heart flut-derbeck.

"Why don't you get married?" asked the court.

Mrs. Millis dabbed her eyes, embarrassed, but admitted that she would consent. Vanderbeck agreed to take the suggestion under consideration.

And so yesterday morning Judge Crawford took the banch with a confidential air as the case was scheduled to be resumed and already had in mind whom should be called as witnesses to the marriage.

But his honor was "in error." Instead of being greeted by a marriage license the judge was handed a motion for a change of venue prepared by Vanderbeck's attorneys, John P. Burton and William J. Clark. The attorneys asked that the case be transferred to another court because of the judge's "prejudice" in the case.

"I admit that I committed an error in suggesting that these two litigants marry." Judge Crawford said. "If they had seen fit to wed and end this suit all would have been well. But they seem to differ with me and I have automatically disqualified myself. Motion for change of venue granted."

William T. Blakely and P. A. Stephenson represented Mrs. Mills, who contended as her defense that the money used in purchasing property claimed by Vanderbeck was left to her by her husband.

That he may have attended a second party in the near, vicinity after leaving the yacht club was looked upon by Attorney Fraik-ley as important, because he was reported to have been in full possession of his faculities when last seen at the yacht club.

That MoShane lost his way and full into the water and was drowned was the conclusion of the first board of inquiry soon after the body was recovered from the water at Wilmington three days after he disappeared. The ensign's mother, however, has scouted this theory and her determination to sift the matter to the bottom led to the case being recopered.

Information regarding the ensign's companions and activities after he left the yacht club has been sought diligently by Attorney Prankley and in this connection it was learned that a determined attempt is under way to identify the owner of a hat found on the dock near where Mc-Shane's body was recovered.

The hat originally was supposed to have belonged to McChane, but this mother disbelieved after it had been sent to her in the East. Purchased in a New York bat store, an property they may not hesitate to load up a small group of hig property owners with the expenses of municipal works, but when the mass of voters are themselves property owners they soon discover that it is safer and more equitable to let those who are served by a public utility pay for their service first-hand. The last-named circumstance now exists in Los Angeles. Most of the voters are taxpayers. Every taxpayer is a business man in some degree, and busi ness men of every degree are opposed to operations that have proved to be fanatical and unfair to taxpayers.

New York is keenly alive to the unterable position of politicians who would assess taxpayers to buy and maintain street-car systems. Apparently New York has made some mistakes and admit-ting them is eary about further error. The eastern metropolis is concerned about street-car fares which were recently the subject of a conference between the Transit Commission and the Board of Esti-mate. The nationally known attorney, Samuel Untermyer, was a party to the conference and the New York World has this to "The transit problem should be solved on the basis of economic facts, not political slogans. If Mr. Untermyer, out of his wide experience, can find a way to operate all the subways, including those now under construction by the city, for a 5-cent fare, without making the taxpayer shoulder the burden, the people will rise up and call him blessed. There is a good deal of misapprehension about the 5-cent fare. It is more an issue between the city and itself than between the city and the traction interests. The present companies are not doing so badly under it, except on some of the elevated lines. But the new municipal lines would face rule under it, because of the facreased costs of construction."

reluctant citisenry to agree to buy the Huntington street railway properties at a cost of $40,000,000 or more. Here, as in New York, the "present companies are not doing so badly" under the existing fare ardoing so badly under the establishment for rangement, but if the city should buy the lines, build extensions and attempt to op-erate on a 5-cent fare the quick result would be the transfer of a large share of the financial burden from the shoulders of the people served and the city as such to the purses of taxpayers. Such has been the result in San Francisco and Seattle and it is the threat in New York.

Whatever the municipality owns the tax-payers must first buy and thereafter main-tain. The move takes the public utility in question from competent hands selected for experience and ability and places it in political control. It lifts the burden from the responsible transit company's treasur; guardians and places it upon the private property of every home owner. Los Angeles voters are property owners. They will not encumber themselves with assessment burdens born of fanatical theories about

Many have a vague idea how people get malaria. The general belief is that one gets malaria from bad air. An Englishman named Ross, who was an army surgeon, found out that some blood-sucking insects were always present where malaria was frequent. After a long time he found out that a mosquito called anopheles, which had unusualy tiny bodies, attached to the insides of their stomachs. They were black specks which he found to be only present after a mosquito had sucked blood from a person having malaria. He finally discovered that not only did these mosquitoes carry malaria, but that peaple could not have malaria unless they were bitten by one of the anopheles mosquitoes, for a malariar parasite had to live a part of its life in the body of the person who has malaria and another part of its life in the body of the mosquito.—[Path-date.] BOW PEOPLE GET MALARIA in the body of the me

'Actress and Dr. Sullivan to be Tried June 16

With ten women and two men tentatively selected as jurors to hear the case of Paul Kelly, young film player, charged with the murder of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, the forecast was made last evening that the taking of testimony will commence in Superior Judge Burnell's court this morning and in all probability will be featured by the calling to the stand of Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress, who was the wife of Raymond. Her attorneys, Jerry Geisler and Roger Marchetti, said yesterday that their present plans are their present plans are to permit her to take the stand and tell her story. be take the stand and tell her story, Dep. Dist.-Atiys. Kemp and Murray, who are prosecuting Kelly, indicated she will be among the first witnesses called. Miss Mackaye is under indictment on two felony charges as a resuit of the death of her husbend

When Kelly appeared in court yeserday for the opening of his trish, equasintances, whom he greeted with smile and a hearty handelssp. He

Miss Mackaye, over whom Kelly and Raymond fought, appeared in the courtroom in the aftermoon as a witness and while she and Kelly did not speak, they recognized each other with a nod of the head and smiled. This was the first time they had met since the tragedy.

As soon as a jury is sworn, the prosecution will start the unfolding of its evidence in an attempt to prove Kelly guilty of Raymond's death. It is charged that Kelly attacked Raymond and inflicted injuries on him which caused his death two days later. The fight is said to have been provoked by Kelly's attentions to Miss Mackays.

The prediction that a jury will be obtained this morning was made in view of the fact that the defense has but four of its twenty peremptory challenges left and the prosecution four of its twenty peremptory challenges left and the prosecution four of its ten. It appeared that Defense Attorneys W. I. Gilbert and William Rains were seeking a "jury of mothers" inasmuch as there were eight men in the box at the opening of court and but two when recess was taken.

"GOOD HOUSE" ON HAND BUT KELLY DRAMA STARTS SLOWLY

"I believe we're going to play to a good house," said Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray yesterday as he looked over the surging throngs outside Judge Birnell's courtroom before court adjourned for the trial of Paul Kelly, central figure in the latest local murder trial of note. The gates are barred and only those with a pass and the physical strength to push their iway through the crowds were able to get into the ring-side seats. The other unfortunates just malled around and croned their necks for a glimpae of something interesting.

Inside, the work of impaneling a jury was going on. W. I. Gilbert, Kelly's attorney, showed a decided preference for women jurors—most particularly those who had sons. Up to closing time the score was lewo men and ten women. Up to closing time the score was lewo men and ten women.

Paul Kelly set between his two counselors, so all outward appearance caim and unconcerned. He was a perfect picture of what the well-dressed man should wer, in a dark blue suit, a tee offering just the right note of contrast and a blue-bordered handkerchief peeping from his breast pocket. Kelly seems to have a bad cold, for he had several coughing spells dur-ing the afternoon, which seemed to cause him considerable annoyance. He looked around the courtroom a number of times and smiled at fa-miliar faces and most of the rest of the time evinced great interest in each and every jurar who was called.

Dorothy Mackaye, with Helen Wilkinson at her side, was in a far corner half hidden by the tables hear her. Her attorney asked that she might be excused for the afternoon since it was not likely that she would be called. There was a flutter in the courtroom as she left. As she passed Kelly's chair she touched him on the shoulder and he turned and smiled up at her.

About ten more spectators were to allowed in the room but instead.

men tentatively selected as jurors to hear the case of Paul Kelly, young film player, charged with the murder of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, the forecast was made last evening that the taking of testimony will commence in Superior Judge Burnell's court this morning and in all probability will be featured by the calling to the stand of Dorothy Mackave, stage actress, who was the wife of Raymond.

It appeared that Defense Attorneys W. I. One of the outstanding advantages of reading Times Want Ads is that you are completely informed. Pick up a copy of The Times any day in the week, and you will find in it more want ads than any other local newspaper contains for that matter, more than any other newspaper in the West.

Times Want Ads, for the first four months of 1927, exceeded the second Los Angeles newspaper by

LINER RESOLUTE DUE

ON LAST LAP OF CRUISE

Last of the globe-circling-cruises liners to visit here this season, the 22,000-ton German steamer Resolute, is due at Berth No. 60 at 6 am. today, from San Francisco and the Orient. She will depart at 6 B.m. cruise early in January.

Starting from Gotham with around 400 passengers, she will depart here with slightly more than 200, as many left the liner at San Francisco to proceed overland to their homes. Approximately sixty will disembark here, while thirty others will board the ship to await her resumption of the summer's irans-Atlantic run.

There were reports yesterday that Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, director of the Hamburg-American Line and former Chancellor of Germany, boarded the liner at San Francisco. This was doubted, as the doctor was here ten days ago, and then contemplated a lirip to the North Facific.

The liner a previous visitor here in globe cruises, is making her first appearance under the Hamburg-American flag, passing from the United States lines last year,

The false reports of their arrival roused the French people to wild enthusiasn which gave way to doubt and then rage as they began to feel that they had been deluded by their newspapers. The charge that the Ameri-can weather reports had not been available also spread and the feeling against Americans became so great that tonight Ambassador Herrick in Paris sent word to the State Department at Washington that a flight by Americans at this time would be inadvisable.

The State Department announcement read:

"The American Ambassador to France, the Hon. Myron T. Herrick, has cabled the State Department that the French people are deeply moved and anxious over the lack of news of the missing avistors. Out of regard for their present state of anxiety, he fels that the take-off of a trans-Atlantic flight from the United States at this time, when the fate of the French avistors is atill in doubt, might be misunderstood and misin-

NEW YORK, May 10. (A)-Hope for the rescue of the French aviators, Capts. Nungesser and Coli, appears to hang by the tenuous thread that they may have been picked up at sea by Newfoundland fishermen or by some small coasting vessel off Ireland. Overdue a full day here on their airplane flight from Paris, the fate of the French war aces has become a mystery of the sea. Wireless stations from New York to Labrador sputtered messages today in all directions asking steamships in their courses to hunt for the aviators. But none reported sighting the White Bird, which hopped off so bravely from Le Bourget Field with the "skull and cross bones" and "death's-head" marked on the white fuselage as if to defy the
